Notice Regarding COVID-19: While the Research Exchange application portal will remain open at this time, all current Research Exchange travel is on hold until further notice. Individual universities will coordinate future visits based on a timeline that is in line with each campus' response to health concerns and safety.

We encourage applicants to visit the university websites and speak to potential faculty hosts or campus Research Exchange coordinators for updates on the status of travel restrictions and campus operations while they consider a realistic timeline for a Research Exchange visit.
